TO THE WEST! TO THE WEST!

Before making your arrangements to follow the advice of the "thousands who have already gone," it would be well to consider what has been done to make the journey to your "Homes in the West" as pleasant and free from danger as human skill and foresight can accomplish.

By consolidation and construction, a road has been put into operation on the shortest possible line from Nashville, Tenn., to St. Louis, "the future great City of the world." This line, the has, during the past year, earned an enviable reputation by its smooth track, prompt time, sure connections, and the magnificence of its passenger equipment. Its trains are made up of new and commodious day cars, provided with the celebrated Miller coupler and platform, and the Westinghouse air-brake.

ST. LOUIS & SOUTHEASTERN RAILWAY,

It is positively the only line running Pullman Palace Drawing-Room Sleeping Cars through without change from Nashville to St. Louis. No other line pretends to offer such advantages, either in distance, time, or equipment. Why, then, journey by circuitous routes? Do not be induced to purchase tickets to St. Louis or the West by any other line, remember that is the shortest, cheapest, quickest, best and only line under one management from Nashville to St. Louis, and is from 60 to 200 miles the shortest to St. Louis, Kansas City, Omaha, Denver, California, Texas, and all western points. It is also the "Chicago Shortest Line," via Evansville.

You can secure the cheapest rates for yourselves and your movables on application, in person or by letter, to CHARLES MCCABE, Southern Passenger Agent, near College street Depot, Nashville, Tenn., or to the undersigned.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION.

By His Excellency, the Governor of North Carolina.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
Raleigh, October 23d, 1873.

WHEREAS, The people of North Carolina have been abundantly blessed during the past year, and the earth hath yielded bountifully of all the products of its soil so that the garners of the husbandman are filled to overflowing; and the industrious mechanic has realized a rich reward for his labor, and every class of our population prospered in all laudable enterprises; and WHEREAS, above all, fraternal feelings and good will have in a great measure been restored in our midst, and no plague, pestilence or famine has visited our State: Now, therefore, as it becomes us, a grateful people, to render thanks to Almighty God for these and numberless other blessings showered upon us in His great mercy, I, Tod R, Caldwell, Governor of North Carolina, in obedience to law and in conformity with an honored precedent, do appoint and set apart

Thursday, November 27th, 1873, as a day of public Thanksgiving throughout the State; and I do earnestly invite the clergy of every denomination to open their respective houses of worship on said day, and to exhort their congregations to humble themselves before the throne of the ever living God, and render unto Him praises which are justly due, invoking for themselves, their State and their whole country, His guidance and protection throughout all time to come.

"O come, let us sing unto the Lord, let us make a joyful noise to the Rock of our salvation."

"Let us come before his presence with thanksgiving, and make a joyful noise unto him with psalms."

Done at the city of Raleigh, on this the 23d day of October, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and seventy-three, and in the ninety-eighth year of American Independence.

DEATH OF JUDGE BOYDEN.

The hand of death has fallen upon another of Carolina's most distinguished sons. The Hon. Nat. Boyden, Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, died at his home in Salisbury on Thursday, the 20th inst.

Born in New England, he came to Salisbury when young, and engaged in the practice of law. He has for twenty-five years, been at the head of the Bar in Rowan, Davie, Surry, Yadkin, Iredell and adjacent counties. His energy and endurance placed him in the ranks of the best lawyers in the Union. He was powerful before a jury, and irresistable as an advocate. A true and tried public servant, he was often in the Legislature and in Congress. Elected by the Democratic party in 1868 to the latter body, he opposed the adoption of the present Constitution, but after the success of reconstruction, having an abiding faith in Republican institutions, a love and devotion to the Union of the States which never failed him, and in which he never faltered the darkest days of secession and war, he felt and saw that our only hope was in the Republican party. He supported General Grant in the election in 1868, and was afterwards defeated for Congress. A vacancy occurring on the Supreme Court Bench, he was appointed by Governor Caldwell to fill it in accordance with the well-known wishes of the bar and people.

The Journal's Letter to its London Correspondent---Have We a Government.

In accordance with the request of many, we republish an editorial of the Post, which appeared on the first publication of the Journal's letter. As that paper set the example of re-publication, we have no hesitation in saying in reply what we have already said.

That philosophy which demonstrates the non-existsnce of mind or matter is justly esteemed barren, even by those who teach it. No man pays any attention to a course of reasoning which proves that he does not live, for it is upon the problem of how to live most profitably to ourselves and our fellows, that our minds are employed. Nor is it of any avail to prove that we have been living for years under a government and laws which are the results of usurpations and fraud. The naked fact that not only in matters which the laws of our being compel us to regard, but in those cases where we were free agents in our choice, we have sanctioned and given efficacy to laws which originated wrongfully, relieves those laws of their tortious complexion. What Englishman would be willing to undo the acts of Henry VIII, and restore the church property wrenched by his hand from the disestablished monesteries? Would they repeal the acts of the Long Parliament or of Cromwell? They would as soon blot from English history the splendid achievements of Blake, as to nullify the laws and settlements of property under the laws of those two.

If it could be clearly shown that the people of North Carolina have for five years been living under no government, constitution, or law, then everything done under these laws, constitution and government is void. For example, there has been no lawful marriage solemnized in this State since the present constitution went into operation. No children of those "so-called" marriages are legitimate; no conveyances of property are binding; nor is there at present any protection for life and property, except such as the individual himself possesses!

Manifestly such a state of thins does not exist. Yet it is what the editors of the Wilmington Journal imply in the wonderful letter which appeared in that paper on the 24th, over their joint signatures. Just there, we distinctly observe that the peculiar subject matter of the Journal's letter, the special tax bonds, we do not propose to discuss. It is the general assertions and arguments which the editors use, and which, if true, would overturn our State and local governments, that we shall combat.

When we come to ascertain the results which ushered into life the Legislature of 1868-'69-'70, we cannot class it as the Journal has done, as the bastard offspring of the carpet bagger and the negro. Let us look at the condition of the State before the reconstruction acts became at part of the law of the land. In 1865 open resistance to the arms of the national government ceased. The rebellion had collapsed like a child's bubble pricked with a bayonet. Its leaders were escaping and attempting to escape to foreign countries, to evade the justice of their own. One-third of the population of the territory which included the insurrection, had been slaves, just freed by the termination of a war which had for its origin the intention of binding the chains of slavery upon them and their descendants to the latest generation of time.—The remaining two-thirds were hiding their diminished heads in an agony of shame and remorse for their past, and yet dread for a future which held out no light to their anxious eyes, was perhaps the superior terror which possessed them. President Johnson, in this anomalous condition of things, as commander-in-chief of the armies of the United States, assembled a convention. This convention was as unknown to the laws of the country as was the succeeding one of 1868. This convention, whose members were elected by the qualified voters of the State, submitted a constitution to the people of North Carolina for their consideration. This constitution, differing in no material point from the constitution of 1835, except in abolishing slavery, was rejected. A marked change had come over the people of North Carolina and the South. Those men who had a few months before, with protestation of loyalty and denunciations of secession and the leaders thereof, solicited with the most abject pertinacity the removal of the disabilities which the President had imposed on them, refused the boon which the mildness of the administration offered them. Those men who had been shining lights in every tabernacle of secession, whether set up at a cross road or at a capitol, now dangled at the heels of every old Union man in the State, praying for his influence with "one W. W. Holden," to endorse the application for pardon which they carried in their pockets, addressed to the President of the United States. What had brought about this mighty change? The leniency of the Government. Because no gibbets had been erected—because no blood had flowed—because Mercy had unbound the eyes of Justice, and shown the suppliants kneeling around—because a parental government had not sacrificed sinful children—those ungrateful sons again turned to rend the bosom of their mother. The United States permitted during 1866 the affairs of the late rebellious States to be administered by the late and present enemies of the government. More than seventy thousand citizens who had representation in the Congress elected by others, were denied the right of suffrage because they were black. This alone was not the measure of their wrongs.—Whenever one of these citizens had acquired a horse or other property, white men, in the broad daylight, and upon public highways, robbed that citizen with impunity of his property, and very often took his life. This shocking outrage was followed by no punishment, and rarely did an investigation follow such accursed deeds.

No Republican government, no government save of force existed at that time in the South. It is no great hazard to say that had affairs continued the same in the South six months longer from the time the reconstruction acts went into operation, that the races would have been arrayed in deadly combat against each other. Then Congress took the matter in hand. That exclusive spirit of aristocracy which opposes the equality on which a Democratic form of government is founded, was broken down. The inherent and inalienable humanity of the negro was recognized, and the proscriptive spirit which had attempted the destruction of his manhood was eliminated in those acts which are called acts of reconstruction. From a confusion which was rapidly approaching an internecine war, they evolved order, law and justice. In those incomparable acts which restored the South to its relation to the General Government, justice was done to a long suffering race. What had been almost destroyed in four millions of human beings, by cruel wrenches, by sealing of knowledge, by the stupidity of others, by the annihilation of the marriage tie—their universal manhood—was asserted in that maxima charta of the human race. In those acts which vindicated the supreme authority of a government which had forgiven, and still forgives, no confiscations of property enriched the authors or the executors of the law. Under the authority conferred by those acts, ten new governments went into operation, which have steadily been pressing onward in a prosperous career. Under those governments the hand of oppression has been in a great measure stayed, and those unprincipled men who have always been ready to abuse power committed to their charge, are now well nigh powerless. The negroes, who ten years ago scarcely dared hope the mighty day of their deliverance was near, or who despaired of freedom for themselves or their children under constitutions and laws which arose from the acts of reconstruction, now are the political equals of the proudest oppressors that ever teparated a mother and her child. The courts are always open for the administration of justice, and wherever a wrong exists, it is but to turn a leaf and the remedy is found.

These governments, we trust, will survive the attacks of all their enemies. Whether they are nourished in the bosom, whether they invade from beyond the seas, we place our trust in that Almighty Being who has heretofore upheld us. Nor will they be arrested in their progress by such efforts as have hitherto been directed against them.—Their high destinies are not yet fulfilled; after their enemies shall have been forgotten, save those which belong to general history, they will "rear themselves amid regal ruin," as landmarks for the lovers of liberty, and as beacons for the friends of mankind.

We appeal with confidence to all men of North Carolina, whose judgment is not blinded by prejudice or some baser passion, to yield a hearty support to the constitution and laws of the State. To realize abstractions which would place us in a condition of anarchy, would be to grasp at a shadow and lose the substance of government. The madness of a few, we believe, will never shake the stability of this or any other firmly established institution. Still, every appearance of revolutionary strife, which has no just complaint to arouse it, should be met and rebuked by all who have any stake in such a contest. Inflamatory appeals of the nature of the effusion of the Journal's editors, are out of place. Such firebrands thrown among them, will die before a spark is communicated. There is no need of such appeals, and they injure only those who make them. This people have too much sense to be ensnared again. They remember the oath of allegiance. They know the emptiness of a triumph of the leaders of slavery, and the horrors of war too well to attempt to revolutionize this State government. And besides, there are more than a hundred thousand men in North Carolina who see in the constitution and the laws of the State the fulfilled hopes of martyrs, sages and patriots. They see those gracious efforts of philanthropy which have engaged the attention of the best and wisest of every generation of men realized; and they see political liberty, which heretofose has been but an abstract theory, become the common heritage of mankind.

EFFECTS of panic tremendous :Tumble in prices at

S. HANSTEIN & Co's
New York House,
tf 15 Market st.

HON. Alexander A. Stevens, Vice President of the late Confederacy, was in the city yesterday. Mr. Stevens remained at the Union depot during the day, and took the northern bound train in the afternoon. He received many visitors during the day.

CLOTHING is down, money being scarce, we are offering our entire stock of clothing, boots and shoes at suspension prices.

S. HANSTEIN & Co's
New York House,
tf 15 Market st.

IT is suggested that in order to beautify our streets, and improve the growth of trees, which renders our city so peculiarly actractive to strangers, that the ragged branches should be trimmed symmetrically. As they now stand, the light from gas lamps is obstructed, and persons find it difficult to pass under them with a raised umbrella.

A COUPLE of colored men quarrelled Saturday night over the Cuban complicases. Select(?) words and endearing epithets ran high—a knock down was the result, the valliant soldier not liking those kind of an argument rose to his feet and with the dexterity known only to Zouaves, he planted a knife blade about two inches long, not into his antagonists back, but into his coat, and skedaddled like a good fellow.

OWING to the late panic we will sell until January 1st, our entire stock at 25 per cent. less than New York cost.

S. HANSTEIN & Co's
New York House,
tf 15 Market st.

WE are in receipt of a circular of the extraordinary drawing of the Havana Lottery to take place on the 18th of December. We do not care to invest, as the present Cuban complications may render it rather unhealthy in that locality for us to superintend personally, as the Captain General of the Spanish Government, under whose supervision the drawing is, may go for and Fry us.

CHAPMAN SISTERS.—These charming little actresses and favorites with our citizens, will visit us on Friday and Saturday night of this week. They are too well and favorably known for us to give them an extended notice, as their performances left such pleasant rememberances upon our citizens, that even time cannot eradicate. A younger and no less charming sister, Miss Belle Chapman, makes her debut this season with her sisters, and we have not the slightest doubt but that she fully deserves the many enconiums bestowed upon her.

IN view of our pending troubles with Spain would it not be well for our authoritics to take some action, or call some expression of opinion requesting the government to place our defences at the mouth of the Cape Fear river in a proper position for the security of our harbor. We are informed that the forts are dismatled and that there are no guns of any size which could be used as a means of defence in case our harbor should be attacked by the Dons.

— Wonder if the President and Governor feel hurt at the attacks made on them.

— Saturday Night Sketches do not appear this week—the man who writes them was not in the city.

— Our devil was astonished to find it took no time, by the Bank of New Hanover clock, to go to the Postoffice.

Mayor's Court.

His Honor W. P. CANADAY, Mayor presiding.

J. Cunningham was continued until to-morrow.

O. Rashu, charged with disorderly conduct, was sent to the workhouse for thirty days.

John Ruse, charged with disorderly conduct, was sent to the workhouse for thirty days.

Thomas Eaden, charged with fast driving, was required to ante $5 and costs.

Tony Ashe, for failing to appear as a witness, was dismissed.

WE observe that sawdust, shavings, etc., have been placed on Fifth street, extending from Castle to Red Cross Streets, rendering the "Avenue" one of the most desirable drives in our city, as it is certainly the most level.

CORRESPONDENCE.

TARBORO', N, C., Nov. 22, 1873.

EDITOR POST—The numerous friends of Hon. R. R. Bridgers in this place are more than pleased at his re-election to the Presidency of the Wilmington and Weldon Railroad. With us, he is styled "the father" of the Tarboro' Branch Road. But for him, to-day the town would be without railroad connection with the outside world.

The Western Union Telegraph Company has opened an office down town, increasing their business thereby fifty per cent. in this place.

The River Bridge at this time is undergoing repairs, which affects the moving of the cotton from the country to the factors. Business is improving a little.

Next week Court commences. His Honor Judge W. A. Moore will preside. Thank Heaven, there is no murder case to come before him.

During this week, a gentleman from Huntingdon, Penn., passed through this place, on his return from a tour of inspection of the lands of Beaufort and Hyde counties. He speaks of them as the finest lands he ever saw. He was so well pleased that he purchased 1,200 acres, and he thinks in less than five years there will be a tide of emigrants from his State that will settle there.—How about the chills? enquired a gentleman of him. He replied that the chills was no worse than the rheumatism which prevailed in his section of Pennsylvania.

Last but not least, I must tell you that the Tremaine Brothers visit this place next Monday, and will give to the people one of their grand musical entertainments. Everybody is on tiptoe to hear them.

Respectfully yours, L.

For the Post.

Civil Rights Meeting in Columbus.

A regular mass meeting in the interests of Civil Rights was held at Whiteville November 15th, and presided over by Rev. James Wright, assisted by Hanson Gore, with Rev. F. B. Moore as Secretary, and T. R. Moore as Assistant. Mr. G. George was elected Treasurer.

A committee was appointed to report to the meeting what steps were necessary to perfect its organization and place it in thorough communication with similar movements in the State. The following delegates were appointed to the Convention which will assemble in Raleigh on the 25th instant: Rev. Wm. Holt, Rev. Mitchell Morrison, Rev. J. Bright, and Mr. J. Floyd.

A Committee on Finance was appointed to collect money to defray the expenses of the delegates.

Addresses were made by the Chairman, the delegates and others, which elucidated the object of these movements. Zeal, harmony and enthusiasm characterized the meeting, which promises the ultimate accomplishment of the hopes of the friends of Civil Rights.

F. B. MOORE, Secretary.

LEGISLATURE OF NORTH CAROLINA.

[Condensed from the Raleigh News.]

FOURTH DAY'S PROCEEDINGS.
SENATE.

FRIDAY, Nov. 21st.

Mr. Merrimon introduced a bill in relation to the Public Treasurer, and on motion the rules were suspended, and the bill was taken up on its several readings. The bill reads:

WHEREAS, The Public Treasurer of North Carolina has refused, and still refuses, to pay the lawful claims upon the Treasurer of the State, under the pretense that he has been enjoined from doing so by an order of the Circuit Court of the United States for the Eastern District of North Carolina, in the suit of Self and others against him; and

WHEREAS, no such injunction has been granted by said Court at issue against him, therefore the General Assembly of North Carolina do enact,

SEC. 1. That the Public Treasurer of North Carolina be and is hereby required to pay out of any monies in the treasury, all lawful warrants or drafts drawn upon the Treasury of the State; and if he shall fail or refuse to pay the sum, he shall forfeit the sum of one thousand dollars to be recovered at the suit of any citizen of the State, one-half of which shall go to the person sueing for the sum, and the other half to the State; and he shall moreover be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction in the Superior Court of Wake county, shall be imprisoned not less than three nor more than twelve months.

SEC. 2. This act shall take effect from its ratification.

Mr. Merrimon, in advocating the passage of the bill, said that there was no injuction upon the Treasurer of the State; only a notice that an application will be made on the 26th inst., before Judge Bond, for an order to restrain the Treasurer from paying out any money or moneys until the sum of $242,000 was paid, &c,; only a notice that he skall appear und show cause why such an order should be granted; that no bond had been given by the Treasurer, and in his opinion Judge Bond did not regard the Treasurer as being restrained from paying moneys for the general purposes of the State goverment.

Mr. Flemming, in opposition to the bill said he thought the object of the resolutions presented a few days, was to obviate the difficulties that now surround the passage of this bill. That, according to the practice in the Federal Courts, an injunction was unnecessary a notice being sufficient. The State Treasurer in disobeying the mandates of Judge Bond, might not only make himself liable to contempt of that Court, but jeopardise his bond. The passage of the bill might place the Treasurer between the horns of a dilemma, and while he could see the necessity of hot haste in the matter, he was not prepared to vote for it.

Pending the discussion on this motion, the bill was made the special order for 12 o'clock to-morrow.

Here the President announced that he had received an invitation to the General Assembly from the President of the Fair of the Carolinas to the Senate asking their attendance on the Fair next Thursday.

The invitation was read by the Clerk.

On motion of Mr. Morehead, of Rockingham, the invitation was accepted and the clerk ordered to advise the President of the Society of the same, although it be understood that the visitation on the part of such members as choose to go would be unofficial.

By Mr. Cunningham: A resolution in regard to public printing.

By Mr. Turner: A bill to amend the law to provide for a cheap chattel mortgage. Referred.

By Mr. Moss: A bill to protect the agricultural interests of the State. Referred.

By Mr. Dudley: A bill to secure equal rights to colored citizens of North Carolina. Referred.

By Mr. Bennett: A bill in relation to foreign insurance companies. Referred.

Mr. McGhee's resolution, condemning the increase of Congressional salaries and asking for a repeal of the act, came up as the special order.

The resolution was read, when, Mr. Trivett offered a substitute covering the same ground, but framed in stronger language, and condemning the action of the President in giving the bill his signature.

Mr. Jones, of Caldwell, moved to postpone the whole matter and make it special order for to-morrow at 12 m. Adopted.

On motion of Mr. McLaurin the rules were suspended and the bill in favor of A. R. Black, Sheriff of New Hanover county, was taken up. The amendments recommended by the committee were adopted, and the bill passed its several readings.

By Mr. Watson: A resolution that no contract for the Public Printing shall have force or effect without being first ratified by the two Houses of the General Assembly. Calendar.

Mr. Jones, of Caldwell, introduced the following resolutions in regard to the death of the Hon. Nataniel Boyden Associate Justice of the State Supreme Court, which were adopted and ordered to be spread on the Journal of the House,

WHEREVS, The House has heard with profound regret of the death of the Hon. Nathaniel Boyden, one of the Judges of the Supreme Court of North Carolina, which occurred at his residence, in Salisbury, on the 20th inst; therefore,

The House of Representatives do resolve: That in the death of Judge Boyden the State of North Carolina has lost one of her best citizens, an able jurist, an upright, incorruptible statesman, a genial, cultivated gentleman. His loss will be felt and deplored by all the people of the Commonwealth.

Resolved, further: That the keeper of the Capitol be directed to place the flag on the State House at half mast, and that the House do adjourn out of respect to his memory.

Resolved: That these resolutsons be spread upon the Journal of, the House.

After the reading of the resolutions adjourned until to-morrow at 11;30 a. m. in respect to the memory of the distinguished dead.

PROSPECTUS.

THE EVENING POST.

J. C. MANN,

EDITOR & PROPRIETOR.

Published every evening, except Sunday, at Five Dollars per Annum.

The POST is designed to reach all classes of citizens, and its subscription price is therefore placed so low as to be within the reach of all. It contains the up to the time of going to press,

LATEST NEWS,

TELEGRAPHIC,

BY MAIL,

COMMERCIAL

AND LOCAL.

It should be in the hands of every man who desires to know what has transpired during the day, and, as it aims to give its publisher hopes it will prove a welcome guest in many families.

THE POST

is sprightly without being sensational, and it carefully excludes all objectionable incidents and reports calculated to offend the sensibilities of the most fastidious. As an

Advertising Medium

it claims to be first class. It has a good and constantly increasing circulation, and is read by almost every business man in the city. Politically the POST is UNSWERVINGLY REPUBLICAN.

Its editor having been a consistent member of that party since 1855, through its vicisitudes and triumphs, he claims to speak advisedly when advocating its principles. He is not, however an "extremist," and accords to others what he claims for himself, the right of free thought and of free speech.

THE ADVERTISING RATES of the POST, like its subscription price, are at liberal and at living prices, as an examination of them will show, and it bespeaks a share of public patronage.

THE EVENING POST

is closely identified with the local welfare of the Cape Fear region, and the believers in progress, whether

EDUCATIONAL,

AGRICULTURAL,

MECHANICAL, or

COMMERCIAL,

will find an enthusiastic ally in THE POST.

THE POST

is opposed to monopolies, but in favor of internal improvements, and a firm believer in the patronage and support of home enterprises and institutions.
